Vibe-Records Wireframe & UI Update

Overview

Vibe-Records is a productivity dashboard tailored for indie developers and vibe coders. This update document outlines changes to the wireframe, styling for both light and dark modes, and details regarding functionality such as productivity scoring, priority tracking, sharing, and embed/view app options.

UI Updates

- Removed 'Potential' metric. - Added 'Productivity Score' (core progress indicator). - Introduced 'Priority' marker based on user activity. - Share button for collaboration within the app. - Dropdown per project card to reveal additional options (Embed/View App, Chat with App). - 'Auto Build' button placeholder (future implementation).

Styling

- Light Mode: glassy, modernized gradients with subtle gray/white palette. - Dark Mode: Dark Onyx (#373539) base with minimal glossiness, accented highlights for clarity. - Rounded prompts and buttons inspired by reference designs. - Glassy texture applied selectively (e.g., buttons, nav bar) for a sleek but not overwhelming effect.

Wireframes & Screens

Below are included images and wireframes generated for the updated design. They represent both the light and dark mode styles, showing the main screen where projects are listed.
